Figure 10: Illustration of Boltzmann Machine. With the introduction of hidden units (shaded nodes), the model conceptually splits into two parts: visible units and hidden units. The red dashed line is used to highlight the conceptual separation.